Representative

CHARLOTTE T. REID (R)

Fifteenth Congressional District, Illinois

Mrs. Charlotte T. Reid of Aurora, Illinois, is serving her third term in the Congress. She was first elected to the 88th Congress in 1962 and was subsequently reelected in 1964 and 1966. In the last election, Mrs. Reid was elected with a majority of over 72 percent. She represents the 15th District of Illinois, which consists of De Kalb, Grundy, Kane, Kendall, and La Salle counties.

Representative Reid, after being graduated from East Aurora High School and attending Illinois College, studied voice in Chicago and for 3 years was the featured vocalist on NBC and Don McNeill's Breakfast Club, singing under the name of "Annette King." In 1938 she married an Aurora attorney, Frank R. Reid, Jr., and worked with him in many local political contests and in his successful primary campaign for Congress prior to his death. Mrs. Reid has four children: Mrs. George Lindner (Patricia), Frank, Edward (Tom), and Susan.

Mrs. Reid has always had a deep interest in civic and charitable organizations. She holds memberships in the Aurora Business and Professional Women's Club, Woman's Club of Aurora, Altrusa Club of Aurora, Illinois Federation of Republican Women, U.S. Capitol Historical Society, and National Rivers and Harbors Congress, and serves on the National Advisory Board of Young Americans for Freedom, Inc., the board of governors of the Capitol Hill Club, and the board of trustees of the Federal Woman's Award. She holds honorary memberships in the League of Republican Women of the District of Columbia, Republican Women of Capitol Hill, and the Teenage Republican Advisory Committee of the Young Republican National Federation.

During the 88th and 89th Congresses, Mrs. Reid served as one of six congressional members of the board of trustees of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. She was the first secretary of the Republican 88th Congress Club, and has represented the 88th Club on the Republican Policy Committee. Since being elected to Congress, Mrs. Reid has served as secretary to the Illinois Republican delegation. Further recognition of her service to the Republican Party and in the Congress was given when she was selected to be one of two first-term Members of the House of Representatives to speak at the opening session of the 1964 Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

During Representative Reid's first and second terms in Congress, she served on the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs and three of its subcommittees: Territorial and Insular Affairs (ranking Republican), Mines and Mining, and Indian Affairs. In the 89th Congress, she was given an additional committee assignment: the Committee on Public Works. She served on four of its subcommittees:

Flood Control, Watershed Development, Roads, and the Special Subcommittee on the Federal-Aid Highway Program.

In the 90th Congress, Mrs. Reid was selected to serve on one of the key committees of the United States Congress: the House Committee on Appropriations. Her subcommittee assignments are: Foreign Operations and Treasury-Post Office. All appropriation bills to provide money for Government operations originate in this committee, and it has the largest membership in the House of Representatives. Due to the heavy workload of this committee its members are not permitted to accept assignments on any other committees.

Representative

LEONOR K. SULLIVAN (D)
Third Congressional District, Missouri

Mrs. Leonor K. Sullivan, now serving her eighth term, is the only woman to have served in Congress from the State of Missouri. She is the widow of Representative John Berchmans Sullivan, who was serving his fourth term in the Congress at the time of his death in 1951.

A native of St. Louis, Mrs. Sullivan represents a district located wholly within the borders of that city. She resigned as training executive for a St. Louis business machines corporation when she married the Congressman in 1941, and later served as his administrative assistant. In 1952, after a special election had filled the vacancy in the 82d Congress caused by her husband's death, Mrs. Sullivan decided to run for his former seat and won election to the 83d Congress. She was subsequently reelected to the 84th, 85th, 86th, 87th, 88th, 89th, and 90th Congresses.

Known throughout her career in Congress for her strong interest in consumer issues, Mrs. Sullivan is a senior member of the House Committee on Banking and Currency and chairman of its Subcommittee on Consumer Affairs, with primary legislative responsibility for the "truth in lending" bill which she introduced, and for other consumer issues within the committee's jurisdiction. As a member of the Subcommittee on Housing, she has played a leading role in the preparation of all housing bills passed by the House since 1955--sponsoring, particularly, housing for the elderly and a new FHA loan insurance program for nonprofit organizations to rehabilitate inexpensive homes for sale at 3 percent mortgage financing to low-income families. She also helped draft a series of major measures to bolster national economic conditions, including the Area Redevelopment Act, the Small Business Investment Act, the Export Credit Insurance Act, the Mass Transit Act, and the Community Facilities Act. A ranking member also of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, Mrs. Sullivan has served as chairman of its Subcommittee on the Panama Canal since 1957, directing numerous studies into the operational problems and activities of the Panama Canal Company.

Besides her own committee responsibilities, Mrs. Sullivan has participated actively on legislation of consumer interest before other committees, and was instrumental in the passage of the Poultry Products Inspection Act of 1957, establishing for the first time compulsory Federal inspection of poultry in interstate commerce; a series of annual increases in the appropriations for the Food and Drug Administration (Health, Education, and Welfare Department) and of the Meat and Poultry Inspection Divisions (Agriculture Department); the Food Additives Act of 1958, requiring pretesting for safety of all chemical additives used in or on food-stuffs; the anticancer provision--dealing with artificial coloring used in foods, drugs, and cosmetics--of the Color Additives Act of 1960; the Hazardous Substances Labeling Act of 1961; the far-reaching Drug Control Act of 1962, including the major provisions relating to prescription drugs first proposed by her 18 months earlier as part of an omnibus bill to rewrite the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act of 1938; and the Drug Abuses Control Act of 1965, dealing with "pep" pills, barbiturates, LSD, etc., also taken from her omnibus measure. Other provisions of the omnibus bill, H.R. 1235, not yet enacted, call for pretesting for safety of all ingredients in cosmetics; premarketing clearance of all health devices; a ban on flavored aspirin; stronger factory inspection standards for all products subject to the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; stricter labeling requirements; and many other consumer protections. She has worked also for automobile safety and the regulation of hazardous materials in industry.

Congresswoman Sullivan was the author of the food stamp law enacted in 1959 for the distribution of surplus agricultural commodities to needy Americans through regular grocery stores. A modified food stamp plan was instituted by the late President Kennedy. This led to her introduction in the 88th Congress of an administration food stamp bill which was enacted on August 31, 1964, and now assures good nutrition for 2 million needy Americans.

In 1957 Mrs. Sullivan drafted and introduced for the first time the exceptional children educational assistance bill to encourage experienced teachers to take advanced training in the skills of teaching gifted children or those with physical or emotional handicaps. In subsequent Congresses, parts of this program were enacted to establish fellowship programs for teachers of mentally retarded children and those with speech and hearing defects. Congress finally broadened the program to include teachers of all categories of handicapped children. Mrs. Sullivan cosponsored the Equal Pay Act of 1963, and introduced bills to provide full social security benefits for women retiring at age 62 and deductibility for income tax purposes of all educational expenses.

Educated in public and private schools in St. Louis, Mrs. Sullivan also attended night classes in vocational psychology at Washington University there.

She is a member of the League of Women Voters and of the Auxiliary of the first American Legion Post established in the United States.

She is Secretary of the House Democratic Caucus, an elective post she held also in the 87th and 89th Congresses, and is the only woman serving (and was the first woman to serve) on the Democratic Steering Committee of the House.

Mrs. Sullivan was the senior House member on the National Commission on Food Marketing, which conducted a 2-year investigation from 1964 to 1966 into all aspects of food marketing from farmer to consumer.
